

Springtime in Kashmir: The Crossword

For clues, go to kashmirspring.net

1		2		3		4		5	6
								7
8								9
10	11		12		13
14			15	16
17		18				19		20	21
								22
23	24			25				26
			27				28
29		30			31	32
33				34
							35

Across

- Indian caretakers of facilities.
- Max Holz's home.
- What a climber does to descend a steep pitch.
- What Ansel Trager and Freya Martens are likely to need in the future (abbrev).
- Hindi word for "great" or "chief."
- Body parts that Ansel Trager incredibly does not injure.
- Part of Ansel Trager's term for making things up on the fly.
- Lead-in to a type of defeat that Freya Martens particularly wants to avoid.
- Major leader of modern India who came from Kashmir.
- Large North American mammals that have nothing to do with Springtime in Kashmir.
- Time of day when climbs usually begin.
- Slang term for an attribute of particular concern to Freya Martens.
- Month in which Springtime in Kashmir takes place.
- Beginning of the acronym for the company in which Vasant Bagchee owns 51%.
- Familiar term for Freya Martens' main parent.
- Unhealthy byproduct of bidis.
- What Sundown Busco has special access to.
- Latin term for the condition prevailing when Trager visits India.
- One of these caused Trager to suffer foot in mouth.
- Particular concern to Himalayan travelers (abbrev.)

Down

- What the summer visitors to Kawapatri would like to be.
- Eager to.
- Max Holz's particular concern for his trek leaders.
- What Trager can't take out of India in quantity.
- Fast airplane at the time of Trager's visit to India.
- What Trager did at the Darcha Rest House that he regretted.
- What the trekkers saw between themselves and Lunwali.
- Ski area in Kashmir.
- What Ansel Trager is not, but Sundown Busco might have been.
- Hindi "where?"
- Treat that Trager might have enjoyed on camping trips as a child.
- Condition that Trager briefly worries about with Freya.
- Spherical ratio of no concern to anyone in the book.
- Indian heavy industrial firm that makes vehicles.
- One possible classification for the Yeti.
- Freya's would-be competitor.
- Sonam's signature adornment to his pack.
- Tibetan word for "pass."